BASSANO CREAMERY NOW OPERATING

Machinery and Equipment Moved in On Tuesday

W. A. Brodie, manager of the Bassano Creamery, announces that the creamery is now open for business. He has the main machinery installed, and although all of the auxiliary equipment and fixtures are not in place, the plant is in shape for operating, and he will change this week.

The creamery is located in the Shoop building, just east of the Husar Hotel. The machinery and equipment came from the buildings where Mr. Brodie has been operating the creamery for the past summer. Mr. Brodie closed down the plant at Duchsnee last Saturday night after churning for the last time, and proceeded to dismantle the plant and load it on trucks to be taken to Bassano. The southwest on Monday put the road in bad shape, and he lost a day in getting his plant transported, but everything is now coming along fine.

A number of alterations and additions have been made to the building that will house the new creamery. A cement floor has been put in; an addition measuring 14 x 36 has been built on the rear of the building. The addition will be used for a boiler room and coal shed. Water and sewer pipes have been installed, and various other improvements made.

Mr. Brodie is quite optimistic about prospects in Bassano, and expects to do a good business here. Bassano is well situated for a creamery business, as the various railway branches tap practically every adjacent farming community. Farmers along the main line of the C. P. R., and those along the Bassano-Simpson and the Bassano-Trepanier lines will find it convenient to ship their cream to Bassano. When the Bow-Sheep and Gem branches are completed, and Bassano in these districts will also have an easy method of marketing their cream.

HUSSAR WHEAT POOL ELEVATOR STANDS THIRD

The total handlings of the Alberta wheat elevators for the 1926-27 season was 5,375,755 bushels for the forty-two houses, or an average of about 126,000 bushels per elevator. The first nine elevators were: Strömberg, 275,455 bushels; Pomeroy, 244,439 bushels; Hussar, 214,943 bushels; Dayland, 172,169 bushels; Woodhouse, 174,346 bushels; Dalemead, 168,173 bushels; Simpson, 164,476 bushels. Quite a number of United States citizens, who own land in Alberta, are joining the Wheat Pool. Just recently Senator J. W. Reid, of Idaho, signed a contract covering two and a half sections of land in the Makepeace district.

Writing in the Farm and Ranch Review, C. W. Peterson says: "It seems obvious to me that an organization which controls the wheat production of 135,000 farmers, fifty per cent. of all Canada's wheat, and twenty-five per cent. of the world's exportable surplus, and which is organized to render services to its members at actual cost, can effect such economies in handling and handling such tremendous power, that to place it side by side with the comparatively puny efforts of even the greatest of private grain handling concerns, is fantastic in the extreme."

Grow Sub Arctic Wheat

Edmonton—Farmers at Port St. John, 200 miles north of Peace River town, have asked the Alberta Wheat Pool to contract for the transportation of 40,000 bushels of No. 1 Northern wheat to market. The wheat was grown practically in the sub-Arctic, 200 miles from a rail shipping point.

All Winter Work On Rosemary Line

(Drumheller Mail)—A. J. Gayler, divisional construction engineer for the C. N. R., will supervise the construction of the new Rosemary-Rosemary joint line for the company he represents, in co-operation with divisional engineer Patterson, of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

"It has now been learned on authority that construction work on this line will proceed without stop throughout the winter months. Camps are now established, and a large force of men are already engaged. The Jordan Construction Co. are in charge of the work from Rosemary to Mile 14, and from there to Rosemary the work is being done by Messrs. Foley Brothers. It is expected that the head contractors, Messrs. Duffin & Mannix, of Winnipeg, will make active preparations for the erection of a bridge and traffic extension over the Red Deer river in the near future."

Thrashing Further Advanced in Sask. And Manitoba

More Delay in Alberta Caused by Wet Weather

WINNIPEG, Oct. 25.—Bad weather has this week delayed thrashing all over the province. The Canadian Pacific Railway agricultural department. Rains have not been so frequent as in the past, but the percentage of fall plowing. Conditions over the week-end, however, have improved somewhat, and much thrashing will re-commence at once. At present farmers are anxious to get thrashing done, labor shortage being more keenly felt, and in spite of the fact that wages offered are higher than usual, men are hard to get. The situation, however, will right itself with an improvement in weather conditions, as many districts will quickly complete thrashing and release men for other areas not so far advanced. Where ground is not excessively wet farmers have plowed during late afternoons. Thrashing has been unable to operate.

Pastures and livestock are in excellent condition, and markets have experienced the heaviest run of cattle during the past week for the season.

In Manitoba 65 to 70 per cent of the grain has been threshed, grades being varied. Oats is pretty much of a failure with barley a splendid crop.

About 55 per cent of the grain in Saskatchewan has been threshed, and in Alberta 15 to 20 per cent of the thrashing is done. Yields are turning out well, 35 to 40 bushels of wheat to the acre being common. Oats in a number of instances has run 60 to 70 bushels to the acre. What is grading mostly two and three, with considerable of it tough owing to farmers thrashing before the grain is ready.

Where the wheat will grade mostly No. one and two.

SUNDAY BLAZE BURNS WEEDS

Flanagan's House Enveloped in Smoke, But no Damage Done

A fire started in the dry weeds and grass between the Jaz Johnston house and the W. Flanagan house about 11 o'clock Sunday morning. Fanned by a stiff breeze the blaze burned fiercely for a few minutes, enveloping the Flanagan house in a pall of smoke, and sweeping into the yard.

Five firemen attacked the blaze and beat it into submission, and then the fire wagon arrived with the first hose to finish the job. There was no property damage, but a number of young trees suffered from the flames.

It is thought the fire was caused by hot ashes which, fanned by the strong wind, were carried into the dry grass.

Some Outfit Resume Work on Thursday

Unsettled weather is still a hindrance to thrashing operations. The work was stopped on Monday when a snowstorm blew down from the north bringing a fall of about two inches of wet, sloppy snow. The thrashers had to wait until the snow had melted and the stocks of grain were soaked, and it was Thursday before the grain was dry enough to thresh.

At Hussar there was a heavier fall of snow, and on Wednesday morning there was still snow on the north side of the stocks.

Another light shower Thursday afternoon, October 13th, caused the thrashing crew to shut down again.

All farmers report splendid yields of wheat, many of them getting 40 or more bushels to the acre. The yield is grading high, mostly No. 1 Northerns, with some No. 2.

BOARD STANDS BEHIND TOWN IRRIGATION

Discussion on Irrigation Dominates Longly Meeting

One of the longest Board of Trade meetings held for some time was that of last Wednesday, October 12, in which a discussion of the board's responsibility with respect to the town irrigation system was the chief topic of discussion. The meeting finally concluded at 5:55 when Wm. Parkman gave notice that at the next meeting he would move that the Board of Trade assume responsibility for the payment of the installation of the town irrigation system up to the amount of $5,000.

The notice of motion followed a long discussion on the irrigation project from the time it was first conceived by the board members right up to the present.

The discussion was the result of the cloud of doubt that has for some time been hanging about the question as to just what extent the board is responsible for the cost of building the irrigation project.

After the discussion in which the situation was clearly and concisely summed up by A. McKee, a motion was passed by a large majority to amend the amendment to the Bredin motion that came up at the last meeting.

This amendment was voted on and passed at the last meeting, was to the effect that the board pay to the Town of Bassano the sum of $200 in full payment of the board's obligation with respect to the irrigation system.

Mr. Holmes' motion to rescind this amendment was carried. Good Attendance.

Twenty members were present at the meeting, with Pres. E. P. Currie in the chair, and W. J. Blankstein acting as secretary in the absence of Wm. McLaws.

A letter was read from the Calgary Board of Trade in which they desired the co-operation of the Bassano board. The matter was left in the hands of the executive.

A letter was received from the Town of Bassano regarding the $200 check which was sent to the town following the McLaws amendment at the last meeting. The money was being sent back into the general fund of the town.

Newly Minted Coins

Will Purchase Grain

Are Now On Way From London To South America

London.—The third ship of the Atlantic, now on her way to South America, is carrying for a large English and South American grain company 500,000 newly minted sovereigns, which are to be used to purchase grain in Argentina against the purchase of Argentine grain. The ship, which weighs 6,500 tons, represents approximately two-thirds the value of the new luxury liner in which it is carried.

The Atlantic, left London recently, and the gold was shipped so quietly that few people were aware of the material nature of the cargo. It was collected from the Bank of England in two motor vans and conveyed to North, Weymouth. Two detective inspectors accompanied each van, one as King George V. dock, and relinquished custody as soon as the hundred boxes, in which the gold coins were carried, had been handed over to the ship's authorities.

The boxes were placed in a special safe in one of the main hold, the captain's seal. The seals will be inspected every week throughout the voyage.

Drumheller Miner Killed

Was Buried Under Heavy Fall Of Rock From Mine Roof

Drumheller, Alta.—George Young, a well-known miner at the A.B.C. mine here, was killed by a fall of rock while on duty.

Claude Tesby, working in the entry room next to the unfortunate man, heard the fall of rock and called out to Young, asking him if he was all right. Hearing no answer he called again with the same result and then left his entry to investigate. He found about two tons and a half of rock had fallen from the roof, burying Young beneath it.

Calling for help to remove the rock, Kenny put a J. Briggs, Jack MacNeil, Frank Henry, and Stanley Smith to help him. They then went up the rock and brought Young out of the mine. When the rock was raised off Young's body his wife was still breathing but died before reaching the surface.

Too H Movement

Men, not money, is what he wants says Padre Harry H. Ellison, one of the chief missionaries of the Too H movement, during his visit to the Canadian agency of the War Graves Commission.

The name of the movement, already firmly established in Great Britain, in Australia, in South Africa and other parts of the world, is an abbreviation of Talbot House, a famous institution in Poughkeepsie, near New York, during the war.

He is one of the best known personalities in Great Britain and is affectionately known by many thousands of the British Empire as "Uncle Harry."

FORBIDGE AND PROVERBS

A brilliant Canadian writer is attempting to explain Scotland's greatness from a physical, intellectual, and moral viewpoint, said that "porridge and proverbs" had much to do with it.
Facts living and high thinking are the foundation for true greatness and success. Luxury and a smooth and easy pathway are not necessary to success in life. The history of the world records that genius for the most part did not thrive amidst luxury, but very often arose out of poverty and adversity.
Too many young people are seeking a life of ease and luxury, or a short cut to the heights of greatness. They forget that the greatest joy is in climbing those heights up the rough and rugged path strewn with many obstacles and difficulties. The greatest pleasure is in meeting and battling with each problem, and having overcome it, striding on to the next one, until the final goal is reached.
A CASE OF NECESSITY
According to recent instructions the Alberta Provincial Police must enforce the order that grain elevators must not receive grain on Sundays.
Such an order is apt to work a hardship on the farmer, as the vagaries of the weather, especially at this time of the year, are very uncertain.
It is not desirable to make a practice of Sunday work, but the farmer whose crop is standing in the field should not be prevented from threshing it and thus ensuring the fruits of his season's labor. Even a delay of twenty-four hours may mean the loss of hundreds of dollars, and the difference between a successful year and a failure. Let the farmer thresh, haul, and deliver his grain on Sundays. He has enough natural obstacles to contend with aside from being hampered by artificial ones.
HOW BABE RUTH CAME BACK
Babe Ruth knocked stony home runs this season. He has broken his own record of 59 circuit drives, made in 1921. The pitcher gave him one fast, low and on the inside; he stepped into it, and wham!
To men whose waist lines are beginning to compete with their chest measurements, this may not mean much—though it should. To half the boys of the United States, it is the most important thing that has happened since Lindbergh flew to Paris. It would mean still more to them if they knew more about it.
A few years ago, Babe Ruth was the worst spoiled man in professional sports. His fame had gone to his head, and his habits had gone to his stomach. He had the appetite of an ostrich, and when his insides protested, he dozed himself with baking soda. His batting slumped outrageously, his temper flew up, he was disciplined for insubordination, and finally had to go to the hospital.
When he came out, he took himself in hand, got a physical trainer, dined about exercise, and about diet, and went to work. He obeyed orific stopped trying to be his own doctor. He kept his temper—which was easy, as soon as his stomach had a rest, for he is naturally of a very sunny disposition. And he came back—glad.
There's no use in telling the youngsters of to-day how Demosthenes labored to make himself the world's greatest orator. They never met Demosthenes, and they think oratory a crime, anyhow. But tell them how Babe Ruth came back from the hospital and pined out stony round tickets in one season; and you've got their attention. Try it.

THE WAY IT IS SAID
The Sultan awoke with a stifled scream;
His nerves were shocked by a fearful dream:
An omen of terrible import and doubt—
His teeth in one moment all fell out.
His wise men assembled at break of day,
And stood by the throne in solemn array.
And when the terrible dream was told,
Each told a shudder, his blood ran cold;
And all stood silent, in fear and dread,
And wondering what was best to be said.
At length an old soothsayer wrinkled and gray,
Cried, "Pardon, my lord, what I have to say:
"Tis an omen of sorrow sent from on high;
Thou shalt see all thy kindred die."
Wrath was the Sultan's; he gasped his teeth,
And his very words seemed to bleed and seethe.
As he ordered the wise men bound with chains,
And gave him a hundred stripes for his pains.
The wise men shook as the Sultan's eye swept round to see who next would try.
But one of them, stepping before the throne,
Exclaimed in a loud and joyous tone:
"Hail, O head of a happy state!
Rejoice, O heir of a glorious fate!
"For this is the favor thou shalt win,
O Sultan—'to outlive all your kin!"
Pleased was the Sultan, and called a slave,
And a hundred crowns to the wise man gave.
But the courtiers, they nod with a sneer,
And each one whispers what each one thinks.
"Well can the Sultan reward and blame,
Didst thou wise men foretell the same?"
Quoth the crafty old Vizier, shaking his head,
"So much may depend on the way a thing's said!"

GOOD RETURNS FOR 1920 SUGAR CROP
Some twenty thousand dollars has been paid to sugar beet growers in southern Alberta during the past week, representing the final bonus of 47 cents a ton on their 1920 crop delivered to the Canadian Sugar Factories Ltd., at Raymond. This brings the total returns to the growers up to $7.57 per ton for the 1920 crop. This is an increase of $1.52 per ton over the final price paid for the 1919 crop, and the statement is made in a letter issued to the growers by the sugar company that "Sugar prices are stable and prices for 1921 and 1922 beets are likely to remain high and attractive to the farmer."

ALBERTA EXHIBITS TO BE SHOWN AT TORONTO ROYAL
Alberta will be represented at the agricultural jubilee for the Dominion which is to be a feature of the Toronto Royal Agricultural Winter Fair in November. The exhibit of agricultural products from this province which attracted so much favorable attention at the World's Poetry Congress, and since at a number of large fairs throughout the middle-western states, has been improved by the addition of a number of new features and will be sent to Toronto Alberta's contribution to the Jubilee. Alberta grain, grasses, and vegetables this season are well worth the attention which attract when shown outside the province.

THOSE GOOD OLD DAYS

Since Confederation was constituted, in 1867, Canada has grown from one million to nine million; from canoe to airplane; from post-boy to radio; from wages of one shilling to eight, ten, and fourteen dollars a day; from hand-knit underwear to B. V. D.'s and Taddy Bears; from hoop skirts to exhibition garters; from arrests for kissing on Sundays to divorce for not kissing on week days.

In those days the wicked were descended from the devil; now they are descending from monkeys. Laws were then enforced at the whipping post; now they are not enforced at all. At that time politics was in the control of the property holders; now they are controlled by the office holders and their relatives. The men were paid for staying home from church on Sundays; now they get their sermon by radio while reading the Sunday paper.

In those good old days the family lived at home, ate vegetables from their own garden, meat from their own smoke house, and bread made from flour ground in their own mill from wheat grown on their own acres. They drank milk from their own cows, and ate bread in their own cellars. They wore clothes made at home by the women-folk from wool sheared from their own sheep, went to bed at nine o'clock, and told time by the sun. Now they live in a Ford, buy their vegetables from the city stores, sell their meat to Winnipeg packers for four cents a pound, buy it back again at forty; get their milk from condensed tins by using a can opener, go to bed when they feel like it, and don't care what time it is.

In those days young couples got married for the purpose of getting married; the arrangement was made by their parents, and the bride had to have a dowry or everything was off. Stalwart frontiersmen were afraid to kiss their fiancées before yesterday.

BUFFALO HERDS AS SOUBREIRS OF CANADA

Among the most interesting souvenirs of Canada carried back to England by the Prince of Wales, Prince George and Premier Baldwin, were three magnificent buffalo robes from the National Buffalo Park at Watnort, Alberta. The robes, which were mounted as floor rugs, were each superb specimens of their kind, and were presented to the distinguished visitors during their visit to Calgary by the Hon. Chas. Stewart, Minister of the Interior, whose department is charged with the administration of the national herds of Alberta.
